

To whom it may concern;

Darryl Hagar came to speak to our high school students here at Averill High School on November 5th, 2008. He was a special speaker during a weeklong education program on substance abuse. Darryl did an excellent job telling his story of addiction and recovery. He was very vulnerable, entertaining and interesting. The students were able to relate to parts of his story and many of them spoke personally to him after his presentation.

We would recommend Darryl to speak to young people, both high school and college age. His is a story that young people need to hear to warn them of the dangers of addiction, the warning signs of addiction and the path of recovery. Darryl also instills hope for those already working on their recovery, that they too can be successful. His presentation is practical and down to earth, his style, casual and relaxed. Overall, he did a great job and we believe his message would benefit students wherever he spoke.

Sincerely,
